My Dear Sir

Your cordially & most friendly letter caught me when I was returning home from a delicious journey spent together with my family to visit the very grandiose R. Park in Caserta, where so many stout and proud trees are to be admired: viz: Oaks & Pines of different rare species, a majestic Libanum-cedrus, the oldest Camellia-tree in Italy &c.

I pray You and Madame to agree my utmoſt thanks of Your Kindness and gentle remembrance - of my good purposes: because I know very well how little I deserve the generous expressions to my address in Your letter. But, it may be as it will be owing to my great merits towards You, it shall be to me the most agreeable task endeavouring to do somewhat that may be approved by You.

Hausw. Prof.
Osw. Gay

In order to that I have already sent to the Railway-office a little collection of Annona - & Panunculi-roots, and some balls; here inclosed You shall find some other autographs in addition to those given previously, with You may consider as a reimbursement in facto for the very precious I have lately received with Your good letter.

In the future I'll do all it is my power to show You my best willingness: dried plants of Southern Italy may perhaps become acceptable toe You. - It ought not to be said that, besides American autographs, specimens of the species, which were founded by Yourself, would be a very pleased gift to me. "Archetypa Grayana - in hb. Lw.," that sounds magnificently; do'nt You mean?

I have already sent to Mailand the acts of the A.
Academ. of Natur. Hist. & Math., to be forwarded to America by the mediation of the Smiths Institution

And now I am obliged to take leave from You; Goodbye, my very dear Sir. Please You to offer to Mr. J. P.
Gray my respectfully salutations and best regards.

The heavenly Powers may escort You truly on Your travel!

Yours true

J. P. Gray
